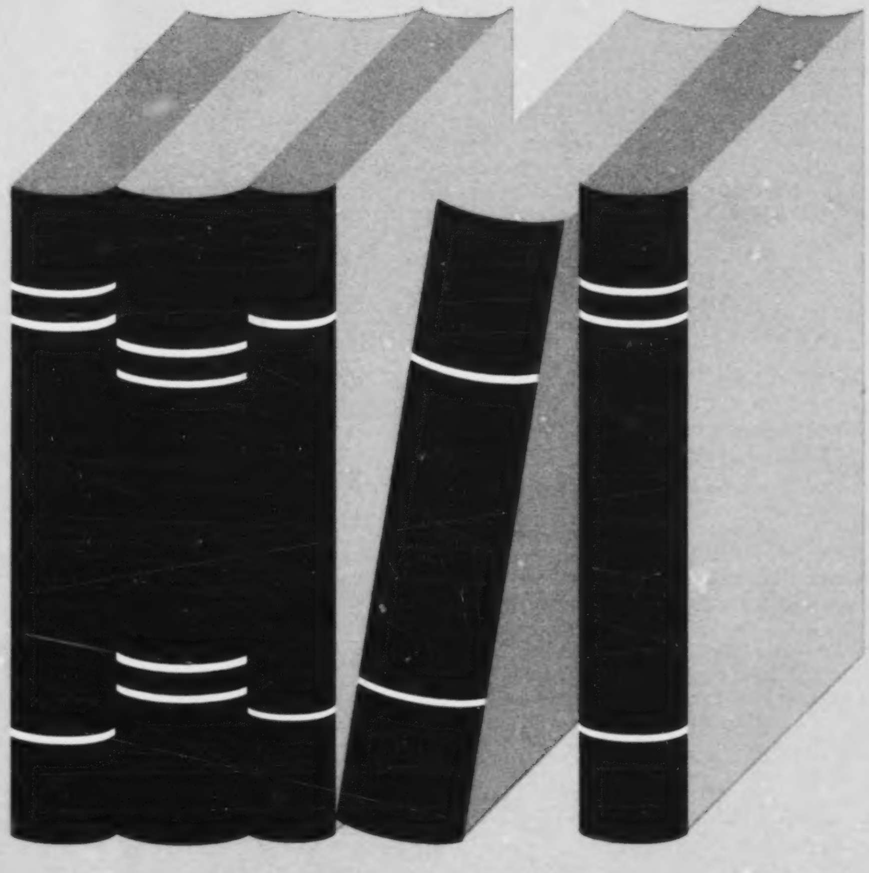
INDEX OF PUBLICATIONS



THE WORLD BANK

TITLES IN PRINT JANUARY 1, 1991

How to Use This Index

This Index of Publications lists all World Bank titles in print as of January 1, 1991. Several important titles to be published shortly after that date have also been included. Prices are accurate as of January 1, 1991, but are subject to change without notice.

The Titles section provides complete bibliographic information for each title, including author(s) or editor(s), publisher if other than the World Bank, series data where applicable, year of publication, order (stock) number, and price code. Titles without authors' names have institutional authorship. Titles are listed in alphabetical order.

The Authors section lists authors and editors in alphabetical order with unabbreviated titles.

The Countries and Regions section lists all titles treating or bearing on specific countries or regions.

The Subject Classifications section lists all titles treating or bearing on the subject categories.

Bibliographical information is not provided in the Authors, Countries and Regions, or Subject Classifications sections. Please refer to the Titles section for complete bibliographic details.

Titles available in languages other than English are indicated in the Titles section with appropriate stock numbers for ordering.

Directions for ordering World Bank publications and an explanation of price codes appear on pages 1 and 2.

General Information

The World Bank, which is owned by 154 countries, consists of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development (IBRD) and the International Development Association (IDA). It has one central purpose: to promote economic and social progress in developing nations. This is also the aim of the affiliated International Finance Corporation (IFC), which works with private investors from around the world and invests in commercial enterprises in developing countries, and the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency (MIGA), which encourages investment flows among its member countries, particularly developing member countries.

In support of its operations, including project work and the assessment of development progress in member countries, the World Bank studies and analyzes a wealth of economic and social data that it is in a unique position to collect. This research is designed to broaden understanding of the development process, to improve the Bank's capacity to give policy advice to its developing member countries, and to support education and indigenous research in those countries.

The Bank offers a wide range of its papers and publications for sale, either as individual items or by subscription to series. Prices are subject to change without notice.

Renseignements généraux

La Banque mondiale, qui compte 154 pays membres, comprend la Banque internationale pour la reconstruction et le développement (BIRD) et l'Association internationale de développement (IDA). Son objectif principal est de promouvoir le progrès économique et social dans les pays en développement. Tel est aussi l'objectif de sa filiale, la Société financière internationale (SFI), qui, en association avec les investisseurs privés du monde entier, investit dans les entreprises des pays en développement, et de l'Agence multilatérale de garantie des investissements (AMGI), qui cherche à promouvoir les flux d'investissement entre les pays membres et, en particulier, les pays membres en développement.

A l'appui de ses activités, qui comprennent la préparation de projets et l'évaluation des progrès accomplis par les pays membres sur la voie du développement, la Banque mondiale étudie et analyse la quantité tout à fait exceptionnelle de données économiques et sociales que sa position lui permet de rassembler. Ce travail a pour triple objectif de mieux faire connaître le processus du développement, de rendre la Banque mieux à même de conseiller ses pays membres en développement sur les politiques à suivre et de contribuer à l'expansion de l'enseignement et des activités nationales de recherche dans ces pays.

La Banque met en vente un grande nombre de publications et documents très divers que l'on peut acquérir séparément ou en s'abonnant à des séries entières. Leurs prix sont indiqués sous réserve de modification.

Información general

El Banco Mundial, que es de propiedad de 154 países, está formado por el Banco Internacional de Reconstrucción y Fomento (BIRF) y la Asociación Internacional de Fomento (AIF). Tiene una finalidad central: promover el progreso económico y social en las naciones en desarrollo. Esta es también la finalidad de la Corporación Financiera Internacional (CFI), que trabaja con inversionistas privados de todo el mundo e invierte en empresas comerciales en los países en desarrollo, y del Organismo Multilateral de Garantía de Inversiones (OMGI), que promueve las corrientes de inversión entre sus países miembros, particularmente los que están en proceso de desarrollo.

En apoyo de sus operaciones, que comprenden actividades relacionadas con proyectos y la evaluación del proceso de desarrollo de sus países miembros, el Banco Mundial se encuentra en una posición privilegiada para reunir una enorme cantidad de datos económicos y sociales que estudia y analiza. Este tipo de investigación tiene por objeto ampliar la comprensión del proceso de desarrollo e incrementar la capacidad del Banco para asesorar a sus países miembros en desarrollo en materia de políticas, así como apoyar la educación y la investigación autóctona en esos países.

El Banco vende una amplia gama de sus documentos y publicaciones, ya sea en forma separada o por suscripción a series completas. Los precios están sujetos a modificación sin previo aviso.

How to Order World Bank Publications

Where to Send Orders

World Bank publications are sold in local currencies by distributors in some eighty countries and territories in every continent. See the listing of these distributors on page 95.

Customers in these countries and territories must place their orders through these distributors. Orders received by World Bank Publications in Philadelphia or Paris from such locations will be returned.

Customers in the United States of America and France and in countries and territories not served by a publications distributor should send their orders to World Bank Publications in Philadelphia or Paris.

Order Coupons

Coupons for ordering titles from local distributors or from World Bank Publications in Philadelphia are provided at the back of this catalog. Please note special instructions about method of payment, use of credit cards, shipping and handling charges, and air mail surcharge outside the United States of America (see also below).

Shipment of Publications

Orders fulfilled from World Bank Publications in Philadelphia or Paris will normally be shipped by surface mail. All customers who are prepaying (sending payment) or charging with credit card should add US$3.50 for shipping and handling for each order, including orders for free publications. Those institutions ordering with a purchase order will be charged actual shipping and handling costs. Customers outside the United States requiring faster delivery by air shipment should add US$6.00 for each title to be shipped by air. Customers with a Federal Express account can ask to have an express shipment charged to their account. For method and cost of shipment by local distributors, contact the appropriate distributor.

Public Information Booklets

These materials, usually about the operations of the World Bank or its affiliates, are not priced publications. They are available from World Bank Publications in Philadelphia and Paris. When ordering from Philadelphia or Paris, add $3.50 for shipping and handling. Local distributors may keep certain of these titles in stock for the convenience of customers and may charge a nominal fee. When ordering from local distributors, inquire about price.

Informal Departmental Publications

All official World Bank publications in print as of January 1, 1991 are included in this Index. Individual departments in the Bank issue many informal documents for limited distribution. These reports are not listed in this Index and are not available through World Bank Publications. Interested customers should contact the originating department in the Bank for further information.

Internal Documents

Many internal documents of the World Bank—known as gray covers—are for restricted distribution and used only in the performance of official duties. These are not available for order. Further information on the subject matter may be available from the originating department.

Videocassettes

Five videocassettes are available from the World Bank Development Education Program. See individual listings for Dandora, The Neighborhood of Coelhos, A Plague Upon the Land, Rivers of Life, and Seeds of Progress.

Categories and Series

Books
Books that arise from the World Bank's research program are often copublished by the Bank and Oxford University Press, The Johns Hopkins University Press, or other presses. Translations of these monographs into French, Spanish, and other languages are often published for the Bank by publishers in France, Spain, and other countries.

Africa Technical Department Series
Informal documents on Africa; incorporated into the Discussion and Technical Papers series (see below).

CGIAR Study Papers
Informal documents prepared under the auspices of the Secretariat of the Consultative Group on International Agricultural Research (CGIAR). Includes papers on particular research issues and on the work of international agricultural research centers in selected countries. Series completed.

Commodity Staff Working Papers
Informal documents that provide information on commodities that are important in economic development.

Country Studies
Informal documents originally prepared for internal use as part of the continuing analysis by the Bank of the economic and related conditions of its developing member countries and to assist in its dialogues with the governments. Those included in this series are published with the consent of the government involved.

Discussion Papers
Informal documents that present unpolished results of research or country analysis. They are circulated to encourage discussion and comment. Papers for which rapid publication is of greater importance than polish are often issued in this series.

EDI Series
Informal documents prepared under the auspices of the Economic Development Institute (EDI), a department of the World Bank that offers courses, seminars, and workshops on subjects relevant to development issues. Formal EDI publications comprise the EDI Development Policy Case Series (which consists of Analytical Case Studies and Teaching Cases), EDI Policy Seminar Reports, EDI Seminar Papers, EDI Seminar Series, and EDI Technical Materials.

Foreign Investment Advisory Service Occasional Paper Series
Informal documents prepared to assist countries attract beneficial foreign private capital, technology, and managerial expertise. The FIAS is a joint venture of the Bank's International Finance Corporation and the Multilateral Investment Guarantee Agency.

IFC Discussion Papers
Informal documents from the International Finance Corporation (IFC) that focus on issues relating to the development of the private sector in developing countries.

Industry and Finance Series
A subset of Technical Papers (see below) on issues of industrial-financial development.

Living Standards Measurement Studies
Informal documents prepared to disseminate findings from the Living Standards Measurement Study (LSMS), which was begun by the World Bank in 1980 to develop improved methods for collecting and analyzing household and community data on living standards. Includes critical surveys covering different aspects of the LSMS data collection program and reports on improved methodologies for using LSMS data.

Operations Evaluation Studies
Systematic and comprehensive reviews of the World Bank's development experience, these reports examine the range of success—and of failure—in individual or groups of projects or programs. Prepared by the Operations Evaluation Department, which functions as an independent auditor of Bank operational activity.

Policy and Research Series
Informal documents presenting results of policy analysis and research to encourage discussion and comment.

Policy Studies and Policy Papers
Analyses of, and recommendations on, policy for sectors critical to economic and social development. Policy Studies are being replaced by Policy Papers in a new, smaller format.

Social Dimensions of Adjustment in Sub-Saharan Africa
Informal documents prepared to disseminate findings from the SDA Project, which seeks to strengthen the capacity of governments in Sub-Saharan Africa to integrate social dimensions into their structural adjustment programs. Comprises Surveys and Statistics, Policy Analysis, and Program Design and Implementation.

Symposium Series
Edited collections of papers presented at World Bank–sponsored international symposia and conferences on development-related topics. Other international agencies are often cosponsors of the meetings.

Technical Papers
Informal documents that present knowledge acquired through the Bank's operational experience. They contain material that is practical rather than theoretical in character and include state-of-the-art reports and how-to-do-it monographs and guidelines. They can also concern matters that cut across sectoral lines, such as the environment and science and technology.
